Describe the institutional process of planning and/or reviewing, revising curriculum and adapting it to the local context in not more than 100 - 200 words

The curriculum is planned on the basis of feedback received from various stakeholders. A well-defined mechanism is being used to seek feedback and suggestions on the curriculum.

- The faculty actively provides feedback about the curriculum through the department-wise meetings held regularly and the suggestions are discussed with the advisory committee.
- Feedback and suggestions are invited from the students of the college at the end of each academic session.
- The college also gathers feedback from teacher educators and Heads of the practicing schools as well as parents through discussions and feedback Performa.

This feedback is discussed in staff meetings, suggestions are analysed and accumulated. All the relevant and feasible outcomes are forwarded to administrative bodies for further action.

Prior to the commencement of every session, a need assessment is done on the basis of feedback collected from various stakeholders and the faculty. In-house meetings are held regularly to discuss the Programme Learning Objectives. An academic calendar and Time Table is prepared and orientation programmes are conducted in the beginning of every session.

Reviewing is done by evaluative practices viz class tests, assignments, subject seminars, group discussions, midterm examinations and semester examinations. Question banks are prepared. Placement Records are also analysed.

2.3.5 - Continual mentoring is provided by teachers for developing professional attributes in students. Describe in not more than 100-200 words the nature of mentoring efforts in the institution with respect to working in teams dealing with student diversity, conduct of self with colleagues and authorities, balancing home and work stress, keeping oneself abreast with recent developments in education and life.

The college has well established mentor mentee system. The aim is to provide moral, psychological and professional support by building relationships, identifying strengths and weaknesses and solving all types of problems. The institution provides mentoring to its students through tutorial groups. These groups are headed by one teacher educator (mentor) and has around 15 pupil teachers (mentees) and meet once a week. The objective of this is to provide guidance and support to the prospective teachers for developing attributes essential for the teaching profession. The mentors provide guidance to the mentees regarding their studies, participation in co-curricular activities, examinations, availability and use of books and other study materials, scholarships and financial aid, personal and family problems, selection of optional subjects, career opportunities, etc. Mentors identify students' strengths and weaknesses by interacting regularly, encourage mentees to opt for remedial teaching and peer tutoring.

The tutorial groups provide opportunity to the students to interact and help one another in honing their skills. This helps the students to interact and responsible for each other's well-being. Students are encouraged to take part in cocurricular activities being organised by various clubs and societies.

The M.Ed. students are allotted guides to pursue their research work.
